I was one of the million people who downloaded Comsol 5.0 after downloading a cracked copy, and it didn't work because I didn't have the license key. This article will show you how to find out what your product key is, download it for free online, and then use that key to register Comsol 5.0 with no problems. Starting with Windows 8, Microsoft has implemented policies that make it more difficult for Windows users to install pirated versions of its software on their computers . This is an important topic because now there are so many ways people can get software for free without paying for it... This is good for Microsoft because it is the only company in the industry with these kinds of restrictions in place. One of the most popular ways is to be downloading Comsol 5.0 at home, but when you get to work and try to run it, you get this message: "Comsol 5.0 requires a product key". If you're at home on your PC right now, then you need to contact Comsol support . To find out what your product key is (if you've accidentally lost or forgotten it), turn on your computer and log into Windows . Open up the Start Menu and Type "Activate" with two A's . Click on the first option that appears. This should open up a window that looks something like this: Scroll down until you see your product key . This will be in an image format, so you might have to copy/paste it somewhere so you can use it. The Comsol support website gives the following advice on how to get around this problem if you've lost or forgotten what your license key is: "If for some reason you have lost the Product Key, please contact Comsol Technical Support at +1 619 692 6665 or send an email to techsupport@comsol.com . Include your full name, company name (if applicable), IP address, and email address". Also, they have the following advice on how to register Comsol 5.0 if you have a license key already: "If you have already installed Comsol 5.0 and did not use the License Key or if you wish to register it with your existing license, simply follow these steps. "Log in to the Comsol website (www.comsol.com) using your Enterprise credentials . Once logged in, go to the 'Online Services' section of your account . Select 'Registration Go to the Products & Services section . Click on ' Find Product' to get started Search for Comsol 5.0 by entering its name , clicking Go , and then clicking Get Started . If your Product Key is not associated with Comsol 5.0, this will ask you to input the License Key . If your Product Key is associated with Comsol 5.0, you can choose 'Enter key' and then click ' Register Now ' . This brings up a final window where you can enter your Product Key . Click on Register Now to start the registration process." I hope this article has been useful to those of you who have no idea what your product key is. And if it's not, then I guess we're all screwed because there's nothing we can do about it now except wait for Microsoft to update Windows and close down all these loopholes that allow unlicensed software to be installed on our computers. comsol 5 0 crack license key
