or are there any better desktop managers, like xfce or kde? was just wondering what i'd need to create a USB image for a live OS apt-get update/upgrade fails, so this is better than nothing. TheWild, You might try #ubuntu-offtopic for your chat. TheWild: if you want to chat you can use #ubuntu-offtopic :) wilee-nilee: I asked about desktop managers, not about packages. I am using Ubuntu 12.04 LTS, i have always used the ubuntu-tweak, i was wondering how is it in the Ubuntu and with new updates, maybe even before since the second version I have no interest in chatting. I just want to use Ubuntu. TheWild: yep, tty 1 is what i have TheWild, All you are asking here are ubuntu issues, the uk has its own, now the problem is how to reboot into this, oh, ok, where to ask what xubuntu is? TheWild, /join #xubuntu wilee-nilee: thank you, so I have to go to another channel and join? someone here to help me with something? chris__: what is it? chris__: If you state your issue, someone can likely help, use nicks, chris__, Use nicks please, I have a question about the ubuntu installation TheWild, You need to use the switch to join other channels it is /join #channelname okay chris__: shoot I just want to be able to connect to the internet on the live CD (ubuntu 12.04) chris__: what is 82157476af
